

Summarised Friday Sermon

7th April 2006

Love For Rasulallah Relevant at All Times

- Among the most important things in our lives as Muslims is the love for Rasulallah s.a.w.
- It is an obligation for us to love Rasulallah s.a.w. It cannot be ignored or put aside at any time
- Islamic scholars have categorized the love for Rasulallah into two: Wajib and Sunnah, or obligatory and encouraged.
- Our love for Rasulallah s.a.w is an indication of our faith. Indeed, those who do not love Rasulallah s.a.w, will not taste the sweetness of faith in Allah s.w.t.
- Two types of relationships with Rasulallah s.a.w, the relationship of heart and emotion and also the relationship of mind and thought
- The relationship of emotion is by always mentioning his name through selawat, zikr and we must have the desire and ambition to be with him in the Akhirat.
- Hopefully, by strengthening these two relationships with Rasulallah s.a.w, we will be able to instill love for Rasulallah s.a.w.
- May this love help us in becoming an ummah that truly lives the teachings of Rasulallah s.a.w, the teachings that bring blessings to mankind.

Summarised by Darul Makmur Mosque, Mosque Without Borders