10 APRIL 2009

THE SPIRIT of VOLUNTEERISM in ISLAM

- The act of volunteerism will reinforce the noble virtue of sincerity in us.
- When we do something sincerely for Allah, we will do it more seriously, and we will not be affected by what others say and do.
- Volunteerism will enhance the compassion and ihsan among individuals in the community.
- Volunteerism will bring about calmness in us and satisfaction to our souls. This is because we do things out of our own will and not because we are forced to.
- Hopefully, when we volunteer our services, we will become a community blessed and loved by Allah, and appreciated and needed by others in this world, and known as a community which strives to do good at all times.
