

Summarised Friday Sermon

29th MAY 2009

THE VALUE OF HARD WORK IN ISLAM

- In Islam, everything that we do that is good and beneficial is considered as an ibadah, a form of worship, as long as that deed does not go against the teachings of Islam.
- In Islam, worship is not limited to prayers, zikir and rituals.
- All the good deeds that we do, when done with sincerity and in accordance to the teachings of Islam, is also a form of worship.
- Let us channel our efforts to do good, and to continually improve our quality of work, to broaden our capabilities.
- May with our efforts and determination, we are able to translate the values taught by Islam to real action, in our work and daily life.
