BUILDING A MARRIAGE BASED ON LOVE AND TRUST

- Marriage is an important institution in Islam. It is the basis and the foundation of a community.
- When we went through the nikah ceremony, we have stated a strong commitment to the responsibility that we took upon ourselves. A commitment to ourselves, to our wives, to our family, that we are committed to look after them and secure their best interests whatever happens.
- Being married alone does not give us the assurance that we will become good husbands or wives.
- We must learn and educate ourselves on how to be good husbands and wives, fathers and mothers, even grandfathers and grandmothers.
- May Allah SWT give us taufik and guidance and may He provide us with strength to lead our families well. May Allah place love and compassion in our hearts. Aamin Ya Rabbal 'Aalamin.
