CONTRIBUTIVE YOUTHS, EXCELLENT YOUTHS

- Every child is born into this world in a state of pureness. Both parents will bring the child up, educate the child, and shape the way the child thinks and behaves.
- There are also some youths who had made wrong decisions earlier on in their lives, realised their mistakes, and resolved to improve their lives.
- Some of the things you can do to contribute include promoting to your friends good values such as honesty, integrity and good character.
- If your friends complain that religious classes are boring, bring them to programmes that are more appealing to them. There are many programmes today that have been specially designed for the youths of today. They will be of great interest to youths out there.
- Our youths are our hopes and our future. Their success is ours too. Therefore, let us together strengthen the Singaporean Muslim Identity in our youths.
