

Summarised Friday Sermon

24 APRIL 2009

THE HAND WHICH GIVES IS BETTER THAN THE HAND WHICH RECEIVES

- Allah s.w.t. has bestowed upon us countless blessings; our intellect, health, progeny, wealth, knowledge, expertise, natural resources in great abundance and many others.
- They are not for our own benefit alone, but we have a social responsibility, in that we must share these blessings and offer them to those in greater need.
- Giving is one way we can increase the quality of our devotion to Allah.
- When we care only for ourselves, and disregard what happens to others, there will be hatred and enmity and more gaps in our relationship with others.
- Hopefully, our act of giving will make those in need stand as tall with others. May Allah s.w.t. make us the best ummah in this world and the hereafter Amin ya Rabbal 'alamin.

Summarized By: Darul Makmur Mosque
Mosque without borders