

Summarised Friday Sermon

30 JANUARY 2009

DEVELOPING a COMMUNITY THAT INSPIRE GOODNESS

- We are still in the midst of learning and appreciating the guidance of the Holy Quran, so that we may apply it in our lives.
- Today, let us internalise the vision and the divine guidance in the Quran, which relates to the shaping of a community which inspires goodness.
- The first attribute is enjoining to do good, or what is known as amar ma'ruf. It means that we should ask others to do good.
- Secondly, enjoining others to do good also means we should spread fairness and justice, by upholding the rights of everyone, the rich and the poor, men and women alike, in society.
- As one community, we can make it through these hard times if we constantly work together, helping one another in goodness.
- We can change the situation we are in into a positive one; one which will strengthen the relationship and love among ourselves, InsyaAllah.
