

Summarised Friday Sermon

30 November 2007

A MUSLIM'S DUTY TOWARDS THE ENVIRONMENT

- The role of a khalifah is not to create destruction in this world. But the task of a khalifah in this world is to make the world prosperous, and to bring good to all creations, in line with the characteristic of Islam itself which is rahmatan lil 'alamin, a blessing to the world.
- This entire universe prostrates to Allah s.w.t and obeys the commands of Allah s.w.t. This universe follows the rules and systems as laid down by Allah s.w.t. Do realize, that everything created by Allah s.w.t has its limits and extents.
- Firstly, we must realize that Earth is the only habitable planet where humans can live.
- Secondly, we must realize that all our actions in polluting this world, the consequences will be felt by our descendents.
- Thirdly, as consumers, we need to be meticulous and analyse our actions, will they bring about devastation in this world or not.
- So let us together perform our duties as khalifah of Allah in this world, and let our descendents inherit this world that is conducive and safe to live in.

Summarized By: Darul Makmur Mosque

Mosque without borders